Why the South Carolina Osteopathic Medical Society?

- The ONLY state-wide organization representing nearly 2,000 Doctors of Osteopathic Medicine in South Carolina.
- Doctors of Osteopathic Medicine (DO) are fully trained and licensed physicians who can choose to specialize in every recognized area of medicine, from neonatology to neurosurgery.
- DOs take a whole-person approach to care and use the most current scientific knowledge to promote health, diagnose and treat disease, and establish strong relationships with patients focusing on prevention.

Why Support the 2024 Winter CME Conference?

- The SCOMS Winter CME Conference attracts more than 100 osteopathic physicians, fellows, residents, students, medical school faculty members, and health care professionals from across the state, region and beyond who are engaged in continuing medical education and hands-on learning forums.
- Scheduled physician meet and greet opportunities: Exhibit hall hours, scheduled breaks, SCOMS Board Reception, Friday event networking event, Saturday breakfast, lunch and Saturday buffet dinner and silent auction.
